Attention: - Regarding a “False Flag Terrorist Attack” that happened 22 years ago.

Subject: - The Port Arthur Massacre.

Dear John

A very good day to you there, 22 Years ago The Federal Government and Tasmanian Government at the time sanctioned what we now call “A False Flag Terrorist Attack” to take place in Tasmania there your home State, from research – study – investigations I am pretty sure we can prove that, and a innocent guy by the name of Martin Bryant was set up as the patsy for this crime.

There were three (3) Agencies involved in these attacks, all unbeknown to each other that they had been recruited to carry out these attacks.

Collectively together people like Joe Vialls now dead, Steward K Beattie now dead, Andrew S Macgregor, Carl Wernerhoff and myself Lloyd T Vance from The OzBoy Files can prove with everything we have written about these attacks that it can be proven 100% is the truth.

For your part you played in these attacks and get the patsy Martin Bryant to plead guilty I have to go back in time and see the mood and what was happening about then in Australia.

Giving you the benefit of the doubt, it was Total Chaos in Australia by the Mainstream Media, with the Murdoch News Corp leading the charge with their bullshit made up stories.

Then all the other Mainstream Media chimed in with their stories each adding their spin on things and leaving out most of the evidence that Martin Bryant was innocent of the crime at the time.

I am pretty sure you and also David Gunnson must have been under extreme pressure to come up with some type of defense for Martin Bryant but you couldn't find anything to mount as evidence to mount a successful case to prove he was not guilty of the crime.

The Mainstream Media was too powerful to overcome and you had no choice but to get Martin Bryant to plead guilty for a crime he never committed.

That is why you feel so haunted about this all, because deep down, you know he is innocent but have nowhere to turn or ask for information to come out and finally clear Martin Bryant of this crime.

This was always going to be one of these cases that The Conspiracy Theorist, Nutters, Tin Foil Hat, Waco's would have to investigate over the years and come up with all the evidence of Martin Bryant innocence I am pretty sure John we have collected enough evidence to prove him not guilty of this crime, so without further notice please read what really happen that day.

I will now tell the story as best that can be told, over the years there has been some Great Australian researchers – investigators and writers the likes of Joe Vialls now dead, Steward K Beattie now believed to be dead, Andrew S Macgregor, Carl Wernerhoff, and myself Lloyd T Vance from “The OzBoy Files” collectively all we have written prove that The Port Arthur Massacre which happened in 1996 in Tasmania was what we call a “False Flag Terrorist Attack” sanction by The Federal Government and Tasmania Government at the time.

And carried out by ASIO, Australian Military SAS, and also Tasmania Police Force.

There was a fourth guilty party in all this The Australian Mainstream Media – leading the charge was Murdoch News Corp Media and the rest just followed suit and repeated their lies, added their own spin to the story and it was total trial by Mainstream Media here in Australia.

Still after 22 years none of these people have presented any proof what so ever Martin Bryant was guilty of this crime, they just invented all their wild claims, which cannot be backed up in any shape or form.

Please read the enclosed what I will now be printing off for you here: -

- Understanding False Flag Terrorism
- 53 Admitted False Flag Attacks Not Theory ... Admitted Fact

I will print off the first 6 pages for you to prove this is not all conspiracy theory but fact, admitted fact.

Also please see the following: -

- 23 Coincidences, Which the Media and Officials Can't Explain.
- 15 FACTS ABOUT PORT ARTHUR YOU NEED TO KNOW.

This all above will form the ground work and basics to prove beyond doubt Port Arthur Massacre was in true fact “A False Flag Terrorist Attack” upon the citizens of Tasmania, visitors there that day also the Australian population at large.

We will now take a look at each of their parts they played in this event.

- 1) Australian Security and Intelligence Organization (ASIO) there part was to provide ASIO Agents also ASIO crisis actors to meet with the Mainstream Media after the Massacre took place and sell them the story about the lone crazy gunman Martin Bryant.

The original plan was as follows the real gunman was to catch the ferry over to the Isle of The Dead and shoot as many people as possible, Ex – President Bill Clinton was visiting Australia at the time, he would of then use the Massacre on which had happen and take it back home and use it to push for gun laws back home in America.

Something happened terribly wrong, the real gunman handler didn't bother to check the ferry time table which had changed down there in Tasmania due to day light saving, so when he went to catch the ferry he was refused to be allowed aboard.

Witness at the time reported a man walking up and down swearing his head off and rang Police and offered to identify the person if seen again, but Tasmanian Police brushed it all aside and covered it up.

Then at the last moment either by his own undertaking or the real gunman being directed by his handler was directed toward the Broad Arrow Café`

We know it was NOT Martin Bryant the real gunman for a few reasons in the Café`.

- A) Martin Bryant was banned form the Café` because he use to annoy the customers all Management and Staff knew him well so who ever the counter service staff served that day was NOT Martin Bryant other wise they would of refused service to him.
- B) The real gunman at the Café` brought a can of drink and some food and carried it to a table on a tray to eat, when finished that is when he stood up and open the sports bag pulled out the gun and started shooting people.

One of the ASIO Agents stood up and yelled out “No Not Here” that was believed to be Anthony Nightingale who said that, he was one of the first to be shot dead.

- C) The Tasmanian Police Ballistic Expert Sgt Dutton a few years latter at a conference in America when asked a question from the floor from one of the doctors and I quote: - 'There was NO – That NO evidence linking Martin Bryant to the Café`.
- D) There was NO Finger prints or DNA taken from the can of soft drink or the tray linking it back to Martin Bryant what so ever.
- 2) Australian Military (SAS) involvement they supplied the two shooters for these False Flag Terrorist Attacks to take place it is here by alleged!
- 3) Tasmanian Police involvement their job was to Manage the patsy from start to finish and help set him up as so.

Reading from the Official Tasmanian Police Interview, they corruptly and deliberately took out the following pages from the Interrogation.

The transcript omits a great deal of what he did say a very substantial portion of the conversation has been withheld.

Pages 1–9, 18, 23, 32–35, 40, 44–46, 79–81, 92–97 and 116–41 were deleted in their entirety, while most of pages 10, 91, 142 and 145 and parts of pages 17, 31, 36, 39, 41, 43, 47, 74, 78, 98, and 115 were also deleted.

Even the pages that were released cannot be trusted entirely.

So there basically you have the whole story, please see at the back of this letter what I think really took place that day for consideration also.

What to do with all this information now that it has been disclosed to you of what really happened that day.

That said after 22 years of lies its time to go after some of the real perpetrators behind this “False Flag Terrorist Attack” which took place and bring them before the Courts to face justice for their crimes they committed against the Australian people.

A List Of Possible Names of People involved is as follows: -

Ex – Tasmanian Premier Ray Groom

Ex – Tasmanian Premier Tony Rundle

Ex – ASIO Director General David Sadleir

Ex – Senator Stephen Parry

Ex – DPP Commonwealth and Tasmania DPP
Damien Bugg QC

Ex – SOG Tasmania Police Mike Dyson

Ex – Tasmanian Police Commissioner John Johnson

Ex – Tasmanian Police Commissioner Richard McCreadie

There is a whole statue book of Laws that could be used against these people E.G

- Carrying Out A Terrorist Act
- Perverting The Law and Course of Justice
- Conspiracy to bring False Accusation

They all collectively have blood on their hands for what took place and all knew what was going down.

Come on somebody- somewhere has to do something to correct the past and bring some of these real perpetrators before the Courts.

What to do with all this information now, its up to you there, but you are now into your 70's how long you have to live on this earth who knows we are here one day and gone the next.

But if you want to clear your name, put your mind at ease and your soul so you can die a happy death and your soul on the other side doesn't go through eternity lost, haunted for now helping to put this situation right is a first start.

Then here is your chance its completely up to you, with that said here is a list of Mainstream Media in Australia you might like to write to and ask any of them to finally do a story and tell the truth once and for all to the Australian people.

Thank you for listening!

What I think Really Happened That Day!

All that can be said with confidence is that something happened to Bryant shortly after he stopped for coffee and a toasted sandwich at Nubeena, since that is when his pseudomemories began.

The baffling gap which appears in Bryant's recollections after Nubeena can probably best be explained by a scenario in which Bryant was intercepted, abducted and drugged into unconsciousness after he left Nubeena.

If Bryant had any genuine memories of that period, he would probably have been far less suggestible than he turned out to be.

Around lunchtime on 28 April, therefore, Bryant must have been administered a drug that literally knocked him out until he woke up, with his back on fire, in Seascope the following morning.

(The lingering effects of the drug may explain why Bryant retained no memory of the bedside hearing on 30 April at which he was formally charged with the murder of Kate Scott.)

Thus Bryant has no memory of where he was at the time of the massacre, because by then he was already unconscious; accordingly, no one can provide him with an alibi for his whereabouts in the crucial time period because by that stage he was already in police custody.

The interception and abduction of Martin Bryant can be deduced from a number of intriguing facts. First of all, in his 4 July police interrogation, Bryant lamented that one of the only two things he had done wrong was "being caught with not having a driver's licence".

However, there is nothing on the public record about Bryant's apprehension for driving without a licence.

This otherwise overlooked incident probably suggests that, after he left Nubeena, Bryant was intercepted by the police, the pretext for taking him into custody being his lack of a driver's licence.

His Volvo would have been taken into custody at the same time.

One of the policemen would have drugged Bryant—probably at Nubeena Police Station—and delivered the unconscious man to Seascope in the boot of his vehicle, while the other would have dropped Bryant's car off at the PAHS shortly before the massacre began.

This scenario presupposes that there were police in the area tailing him. Strikingly, three policemen were present in the area that day, any or all of whom could have been involved in the abduction effort.

According to the official story, sometime around midday the only two policemen on the Tasman Peninsula, Constable Paul Hyland of Nubeena Police Station and Garry Whittle of Dunalley Police Station, were summoned away to a remote location at Saltwater River—the farthest point on the peninsula—by an anonymous caller reporting a large stash of heroin.

About an hour later, the policemen allegedly rang in to report that the call had been a hoax and that nothing had been found at Saltwater River other than a sample of ordinary soap powder.

Although it is generally assumed that the perpetrators of the massacre decoyed the two policemen to this remote location in order to retard the police response to the massacre, the story itself could well be bogus and have been invented to provide an alibi for their doings in the crucial hours beforehand.

At the time the two policemen were allegedly decoyed on a wild goose chase, they could well have been actually engaged in abducting Martin Bryant and commandeering his Volvo.

A third policeman, Constable Chris Iles from Sorell Police Station, was also present in the area at the time of the massacre.

According to eyewitness Kyle Spruce, Iles appeared in front of Port Arthur General Store within a minute or two of the gunman's departure.

He then sped off towards Seascope.

No explanation has ever been given for Iles being out of his own district that afternoon, just as there has been no explanation for what he did after he reached Seascope, which he would have done within five or 10 minutes.

The scenario described above would account for several interesting circumstances:

(1) Bryant told his interrogators that while surfing at Roaring Beach he noticed two people bodysurfing in short wetsuits at the other end of the beach.

It is interesting that Bryant should recall such a trivial detail.

That he chose to mention it may indicate that he assigned the men some significance—significance which has been expunged from the interrogation transcript.

Could the men have been Hyland and Whittle?

If so, how did they know they could begin tailing Bryant there?

Did Bryant's girlfriend Petra Wilmott, after she left his house that morning, alert them to the fact that Bryant planned to go surfing at Roaring Beach?

(2) According to Michael Beekman and Rebecca McKenna—two persons who had been sitting near the gunman on the front deck area of the Broad Arrow Café—the Port Arthur gunman was watching the carpark anxiously in the period between about 1.10 and 1.15 pm.

According to PAHS employee Aileen Kingston, a yellow Volvo arrived at the Port Arthur toll gate at around the same time.

The vehicle would therefore have entered the Port Arthur carpark a minute or two later.

After a few minutes of inane chatter, the gunman suddenly rose from his table on the front deck and entered the café proper.

Chronologically, the two events are so closely tied that they must represent cause and effect.

The Volvo's arrival in the carpark appears to have been a signal to the gunman that the massacre was to go ahead as planned.

(The use of such a signalling device seems obvious enough when you consider that the decision as to whether the massacre was to go ahead would have depended on whether Bryant, the designated patsy, had successfully been apprehended.

It wouldn't have been acceptable to have allowed Bryant to be seen elsewhere at the time of the massacre, and his car also needed to be on hand for the gunman to use as an escape vehicle.)

(3) At around 1.50 pm, in circumstances that remain extremely obscure, two things seem to have happened at Seascape.

A hostage was taken out of the boot of a vehicle and taken inside Seascape Cottage.

At more or less the same time, an explosion occurred which destroyed the BMW that had been hijacked by the gunman.

It is entirely possible that the hostage who was taken by the gunman—Glenn Pears—was still inside the boot of the vehicle when it ignited, and that the hostage who was taken inside Seascape Cottage was none other than Martin Bryant.

In short, the gunman may have taken Glenn Pears hostage for no other reason than to provide a cover story for witness sightings of a hostage being bundled into Seascape.

Although the official story is that Pears's body was found inside Seascape, only the officers who first opened the BMW's boot after the siege was over the following morning—and the media were not allowed to visit the location until 11.00 am, giving the police a period of approximately two hours in which to tamper with the crime scene—would be in a position to know the truth.
